JUNE IS ELDER ABUSE AWARENESS MONTH

Prevent Elder Financial Exploitation

Elder financial exploitation isn't rare. It's widespread, growing, and often hidden.

- ✓ Financial institutions reported over 180,000 suspicious cases in just a few years
- ✓ In a single year, $1.7 billion was tied to suspected exploitation
- ✓ The average loss per older adult was $34,200, with some exceeding $100,000

Here's a simple idea that can help prevent fraud:

PAUSE

Encourage your loved ones to take a moment before acting, especially when something feels urgent.

ASK

If something feels off, talk it through with someone you trust or your credit union. A quick conversation can prevent a costly mistake.

PROTECT

Financial fraud can often be avoided by protecting your financial and personal information

Pause. Ask. Protect.

Protect What Matters Most as We Grow Older

Elder financial abuse is more common than many people realize, and it's often happening quietly.

Across the country, financial institutions have reported over 180,000 suspicious cases involving older adults, totaling more than $6 billion in potential or actual losses.*

What makes this even more concerning is how these situations unfold. Many cases don't happen all at once. They build over time, sometimes over months, before being detected. In many cases, the person responsible is someone the victim knows and trusts.

That's why one simple idea can make such a difference:

Pause. Ask. Protect.

Pause

If something feels urgent or unusual, take a moment. Pressure is one of the most common tactics used in financial exploitation.

Ask

If something feels off, talk it through with someone you trust or your credit union. A quick conversation can prevent a costly mistake.

Protect

Never share personal or financial information unless you're completely confident it's safe.

At (Credit Union Name), we believe in protecting your financial well-being. It means helping you feel confident in every financial decision you make.
